STRATEGIES FOR EFFECTIVE
BROWNFIELDS PROJECTS & PROGRAMS

- Community: Obtain community leadership support, convene stakeholders, address concerns, incorporate plans
- Technical: Collect & analyze good information
- Regulatory: Coordinate with regulatory agencies; develop assessment, legal & acquisition strategies
- Financial: Obtain planning, site assessment & remediation funds – loans & grants
- Consider Federal & state programs for infrastructure & economic development

Seed funding & assistance to local government & communities are available through various programs.

LEVERAGING MULTIPLE SOURCES

- Brownfields activities as a percentage of expenses
- Successful projects take a long time
- Don't need all the money at once
- Consider all sources:
 - Public: other federal, state & local grants/loans, tax exempt and taxable bond financing, local levy funds
 - Private: bank/other institution loans, investor's equity, tax credits
 - In-kind: staff salary/benefits, volunteer hours, equipment, building space
- Money attracts money; success breeds success

PLAN & PRIORITIZE

- Grant funding cycles
- Funding agency priorities
- Economic or community development needs
 - Planning
 - Infrastructure > Commercial/Industrial
 - Redevelopment & jobs >>>> > Housing
 - > Open space
- Grant & development teams
- Political & community support
- Planning & zoning consistency
- Entitlements & permits
- Planning & construction schedule

FEDERAL FUNDING & TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE SOURCES

- Environmental Protection Agency (EPA)
- Housing & Urban Development (HUD)
- Department of Transportation (DOT)
- Economic Development Administration (EDA)
- Department of Agriculture
- Department of Energy
- Army Corps of Engineers
- Who to contact?
 - Formula grants/loans: Department of Commerce, WSDOT, planning/ economic development district, metropolitan planning organization or council of government
 - Discretionary grants/loans: contact directly
